Fraternity men receive annual workout at the annual Delta Upsilon Bike Race. Top, changing riders is a science. Two men hoist man off the bike, a third grabs it and takes off for another lap. Bottom, a rider rests between laps. Most groups ran short of men by the time the race was over and some started on their second and third rounds.

Theta Chi, Phi Delts, Sigs Win In Bike Race

Jumping off to a 30-yard lead in the first lap, thanks to speedster Dick Engle, Theta Chi won the Sixth Annual Delta Upsilon Bike Race Saturday. Phi Delta Theta finished second, and Sigma Chi took third.

In one of the closest finishes in the race's history, Theta Chi completed 68 laps good for 149.6 miles. Phi Delta Theta also completed 68 laps but was 5 minutes and 40 seconds behind the winners. Sigma Chi completed 60 laps for 132 miles which put them two laps ahead of Sigma Nu, Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Saturday's weather, which was cold and blustery just like the rest of the spring days we have been having, was in complete contrast to last year when the temperature was 80 plus and the riders were dropping from heat exhaustion. The mercury Saturday hovered around the 40 mark and the wind, which blew out of the northeast, was 15 miles an hour.

Many riders found the back stretch over Poe Road to be the most tiring part of the course, as the wind was blowing right at them after they made the turn east at Falcon Hall. To add to the peril of the riders there was a sporadic rain for about an hour that caused many spills on the four turns.

The speed lap which was held at the completion of the race was won by Joe Unguary of Phi Delta Theta in the respectable time of 7:09 minutes.

The trophies for the first three places and the speed lap were awarded by the Bike Race Queen, Deborah Aunger, Alpha Xi Delta, senior.

A sign that the fraternities are taking the race seriously was evident Saturday in that the three trophy winners had their bikes in perfect working condition and did not need a pit stop. Also, that Theta Chi which knew the times of all its members used only the top 20 men, all of whom could navigate the 2.2 mile course in under eight minutes for most of the race.

Dorm Unready; See Housing Problem

It is expected that only a portion of Founders Quadrangle will be completed at the beginning of next semester. Therefore, many students will have temporary housing assignments in other dorms until Founders is completed, according to Dr. Elden T. Smith. These temporary assignments will be announced during the summer and specific room assignments will be made when the students arrive on campus for the opening of school. According to present plans, after Founders Quadrangle has full occupancy all other residence halls will be reduced to normal occupancy and students will move to their permanent room assignments for the year, said Dr. Smith.

On the basis of these plans upperclass students have been given the opportunity to express an order of preference in applying for residence hall accommodations. Such preferences will be honored in order of advance payment of room charges.

Upperclass women not intending to live in sorority houses were asked to list in order of their choice Alice Prout Hall, Mooney Hall in Founders Quadrangle, Shatzel Hall, Delta Gamma House, and Alpha Xi Delta House. Men students will be housed in Rodgers Quadrangle, Rodgers Northeast, Rodgers Northwest, Ivy Hall, Williams Hall, and Kohl Hall as well as in fraternity houses.

All freshmen and sophomores will live in University residence halls next year except those sophomore men residing in off-campus fraternity houses. All freshman men will be assigned to Rodgers Quadrangle and all freshman women to Founders Quadrangle as it becomes available.

Food service will be maintained in the Commons, in Kohl Hall and Williams Hall and the kitchen and dining facilities of Shatzel Hall will be reactivated during the summer. It is expected that Founders Quadrangle dining hall will be ready for use in September. The basic policy to be observed in determining the assignment of students to certain dining halls is based upon consideration of the U-A Prom committee has asked, as a general policy, that flowers not be purchased for the dance.

Nominating Convention To Be Held Thursday

The nominating convention for all class officers of next year will be held Thursday, May 3 at 7 p.m. in the recreation hall. A candidate must be officially introduced at the meeting in order for his or her name to appear on the ballot. The candidate does not necessarily have to attend the convention, according to Ethel McMillian, chairman of the elections committee.

Official petitions will be handed out at the meeting which requires 60 names of students in the respective classes the candidates are aspiring to represent.

Elections will be held May 17, at which time May Court will also be selected.

Allstate Grants $5,000 To Driver Ed Program

For the third straight year, the driver-education program at Bowling Green State University was the recipient of a $5,000 grant from the Allstate Insurance Co.

The check was presented to Dr. Ralph G. Harshman, vice-president, by Reynolds Rush, Cleveland, district representative of the Foundation, Monday at a noon luncheon at the University Commons.

The University is the only education institute in Ohio receiving the grant for driver-education scholarships and instruction, and one of approximately 35 in the country. The $5,000 grant has been awarded to the University each year since 1954.

One-Act Plays Friday--Miesle

Three one-act plays will be presented at 7:30 p.m., Friday, May 4, in Gate Theatre, according to Dr. Frank L. Miesle, assistant professor of speech.

"Ways and Means," a witty farce written by Noel Coward, will be directed by Frank Glann.

William R. Smith is the student director for "The Lottery," which was written by Brainerd Duffield. This play has one of the largest casts to ever present a one-act and is concerned with a traditional lottery which has grim consequences.

The third play, "In The Dark," is being directed by Juanita Baugh. The writer is anonymous. "In The Dark" is described as being a psychological melodrama.

Students interested in tickets, should consult the bulletin board in Gate Theatre for further announcements.

Students To Get Keys; Gordon Foresees Delay

May 15 is the target date for distribution of the 1956 Key, said Jim Gordon, editor of The Key. Gordon cites some difficulties that may arise. The Key has been printed and sent to Chicago where the covers are to be attached. It is not known if the yearbooks will arrive in time to meet the tentative date of distribution, according to Gordon.

Council On Student Affairs Recommends Senate Change

'Boss Of Year' Award Voted To Harshman

Dr. Ralph G. Harshman, vice president of the University, was named "Boss of the Year" Tuesday, April 24 by the Wood County Chapter of the National Secretaries Association at its first Boss Night Dinner, served in the private dining room of the Charles Restaurant.

His secretary, Mrs. Bruce Kille, made the presentation of the certificate of Recognition sealed with the Association's emblem and framed in its colors, crimson and gold. The Chapters Executive Board selected

Dr. Harshman for this honor because of his interest in the aims and purposes of the Association, his whole-hearted support of the Certified Professional Secretary program, and in appreciation of his interpretation of the subject "What We Expect of You."

Mrs. Melvin Buchman, the Chapter president reviewed for the employers the aims and objectives of the National Association and the Wood County Chapter's two years of growth. In concluding her talk, Mrs. Buchman highly commended Dr. Galen Stutsman, chairman of the department of business education at the University, for his efforts in giving the Wood County secretaries an opportunity to organize a chapter of the NSA, and the chapter conferred upon him its first Honorary Membership.

In another presentation, Mrs. Floyd Readnow, employed at the Student Financial Aid Office, was cited as the Chapter's secretary of the year. Robert E. McKay, Student Financial Aid Counselor read the citation recognizing her as its outstanding member. Mrs. Bruce Kille, last year's secretary of the year, presided at a banquet honoring Mrs. Readnow on Friday, April 27.

65 Performances Given Of Family Plays--Obee

Harold B. Obee, assistant professor of speech and faculty adviser of the Family Plays, announced that approximately 65 performances of the one-act plays have been presented this year within a 75 mile radius of Bowling Green State University.

For the past several years, the American Theatre Wing has been producing a series of short community plays designed to help people understand human behavior. The Family Plays are a special company made possible by a grant of funds from the Ohio Division of Mental Hygiene, Mr. Obee stated.

These plays have been acclaimed in many national magazines and well-known newspapers throughout the country. Some critics have labeled these plays as "exciting drama," "suspenseful theater," "informative and stimulating," and "first-rate family-life program." A complimentary article also appeared in the September, 1955 issue of "Motive," a magazine published by the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction. Many of these plays have enjoyed longer runs than most Broadway shows, Mr. Obee said.

The Family Plays are a modern form of parent education, and they deal with everyday problems involving children and their parents. The plays, which average approximately half an hour, are designed especially to stimulate the audience to participate in the informal discussion which follows. Mr. Obee stated that this method of presenting a problem is much more effective and dramatic than an ordinary speech which may tend to be "dry and boring."

The Council on Student Affairs has recommended to Pres. Ralph W. McDonald that the present organization of Student Senate will be changed to three autonomous student committees which will handle the remaining Senate functions.

The recommendations came on the basis of a continuing study by the Council as to the most effective means by which students might continue to handle student elections, charity drive, and spirit functions.

Blood Bank Fails To Reach Quota

The Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit collected 67 pints of blood from the University students Thursday, April 26. The quota was 125 pints.

They have collected an average of 127 pints of blood per visit for the three visits the bloodmobile has made to the University during the school year 1955-56.

The Council felt that the present set-up of Senate is insufficient to meet the needs of its functions. The recent social program outlined by the University Social Committee points out that Senate will no longer arrange for Homecoming and May Day Activities. Therefore, the remaining items on the list of Senate functions are limited to charity drive, student elections, and spirit activities.

Subcommittee Suggests
A subcommittee of the Council, composed of Jean Goldinger, Senate president, Richard Weaver, Intrafraternity Council president, and Stuart Givens, coordinator of student activities, suggested to the remainder of the Council that three separate committees could best organize the remaining functions.

As yet, the Council has not devised a final plan or organization for the three groups, but its recommendations will be passed on to the president. Approval is expected for the reorganization of Senate.

"Senate," Misnomer
It was the Council's feeling that the term "Senate" was a misnomer, since it implies a self-governing body. In the recent history of Senate, the group had no specific functions delegated by the University prior to 1954. At that time, certain functions were given to the body for organization, arrangement, and coordination.

Presently, the Senate handles the elections, charity drive, and spirit committee through three committees responsible to Senate. The recommendation of the Council on Student Affairs gives these groups not only the responsibility they now have, but authority to conduct their own procedure.

Other Members

Too Many Cars

The findings of the student-faculty committee appointed to study the campus parking problems can be noted with some form of restraint.

The committee found that there are more cars than parking places, 542 more to be exact, which comes as no surprise to students, faculty members, or administrators who try to park and happen to be in a hurry at the same time.

And it is not unknown to drivers that a number of parking places were tied up before Thanksgiving by construction on the Court St. entrance to the campus. We were told in the winter that this area would be opened as soon as the pouring of concrete was possible. The mixture that is being poured is all going into the Music Hall, Founders Quad, or the Union, but none seems to be earmarked for the rock-filled street.

Now through this same area, cars park in four rows, two against the curbs, and the other two next to each other on the grass—rather what now is dirt. This is unfortunate and could be lessened if the offending cars were towed away or warning tickets issued and then more punitive measures taken.

All drivers must face up to the idea that inconvenience will result for the next several years because of the construction that will occur. But this is no reason for the many liberties that seemingly are taken, in regard to parking places.

A Friendly Campus?

The air of resentment apparent among members of the student body when large groups of high school students visit campus for mass meetings certainly does nothing toward giving them a favorable impression of the University.

Such conventions are an integral part of the University public relations program, and apathy on the part of students simply counteracts all favorable impressions that may have been gained as a result of the conference.

Bowling Green had supposedly been known for its friendliness, but evidence gained from the most recent high school gathering cites every reason to disbelieve the tradition.

A simple tolerance of conditions would improve the situation to a considerable degree over its present status. Many students attending such meetings perhaps are contemplating attending the University in one, two or three years, and our present attitude should easily discourage any such thoughts. First impressions are too often the lasting and meaningful ones.

During the spring months there will be several more of these conventions, and if we cannot resign ourselves to an attitude of felicity, we must at least remain receptive.

Oglevee Edits Book On Bonn Palace

A book containing letters written by the Archbishop-Elector Joseph Clemens of Cologne to Robert de Cotte of France between 1712 and 1720 has been published, according to its editor, Dr. John F. Oglevee, assistant professor of history.

The letters, written in French, concern the building of the elector's palace at Bonn, now the seat of the University of Bonn in the West German capital. Mr. de Cotte of the period.

Dr. Oglevee began preparation for the book three years ago when he studied the letters in Paris and had them microfilmed. He also visited Bonn where he obtained information from members of the University's Art Historical Seminar.

Spectators Shiver At Bike Race; OSU Rules 'George Must Go'

BY BRAD GREENBERG

We well remember the difference between this year's Bike Race and the one two years ago, besides the four hours difference in time length.

At that one, it seemed the DU's officially ushered in the first day of spring, because the coeds packed the entrance to the cemetery in their finest new bermudas. Any bermuda wearing this past Saturday took gumption and a heavy overcoat.

And we'd like to thank the DU's for letting us break the story of their queen although no previous contact had been made. At the same time we broke the news of the U-A Prom band, which came as no surprise to at least a dozen persons who told us ahead of time who the band was. This presents a contrast in the keeping of secrets.

LEFTOVERS: At the Greek Week dance, the theme was Roman Holiday, while the centerpiece was a Trojan horse.

In a BA 303 class, Assignment No. 13 was due on Friday, April 13.

And Dr. Mandell complained that the story about his receiving a Fulbright did not mention whether he was coming back or not. So we offer fair warning that he is, after one year in the Swedish School of economics in Finland.

At Ohio State, either the Deltas had to go or "George." A university ruling says that men students may not live in a house which has been disapproved. And the assistant dean of men rules that if "George" remained in the Delt house, then the living quarters would probably be disapproved. So George was given to a private collector.

"George" is a seven-foot boa constrictor that one of the actives ordered from Florida.

FTA Organizes BGHS Chapter

Bowling Green High School is going to receive help from the University chapter of Future Teachers of America in organizing their own FTA group. The high school, contrary to most high schools of this size in the area, has never had an FTA chapter, according to Dr. Agnes Hooley, adviser to FTA.

Dr. Hooley reported that the high school students are very anxious to start their own chapter and have been very cooperative in their work with the University.

A panel of University student members of FTA will go to the Bowling Green High School at 10:30 a.m., Thursday to set up a display in the high school recreation room to show the students how a chapter would operate.

University students making up the panel will be Mary Hines, Fran Piasecki, Paul Kirby, Kenneth Cattarin, and Virginia Weadock. They are members of the promotion committee of which Don Traxler is chairman. Dr. Hooley, assistant professor of health and education, will also accompany them.

PHI BETA KAPPA, I LOVE YOU!

Once there was a Chi Omega named Alfreda Pectate who was beautiful and well-formed and wore clothes of the most tasteful cut and smoked the gentlest of all cigarettes—Philip Morris, of course!—and had, in addition to these admirable qualities, a brain so massive and retentive that she used to read the Britannica just for kicks.

Alfreda had one great ambition: to be elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Consequently she was all a-dither when she heard a rumor one night that a man from the Phi Beta Kappa selection board was coming over to the Chi Omega house to interview her. Being all a-dither, Alfreda sat down and lit a Philip Morris, as she always did when she was all a-dither, for gentle Philip Morris, as wise Alfreda knew, is comfort to the troubled, balm to the beset, and a haven to the vexed. But gentle Philip Morris, as Alfreda, with her mighty intellect, was well aware, is not only a cigarette for times of stress and strain, but also the perfect accompaniment to happiness and light. For gentle Philip Morris is sunny and cheery and jolly and merry and yummy! All this Alfreda, with her giant cerebellum, knew.

By and by there came a loud, masculine knock on the door, and Alfreda, composing herself, went to answer it. "Won't you come in?" she said to the man outside. "I am Alfreda Pectate."

"And I am Ed Fester," said the man, entering with a friendly smile. Ed had found that a friendly smile was a great asset in the Venetian blind game, which happened to be Ed's game. He had nothing to do with Phi Beta Kappa; he had come over to see about a new blind for the house mother's bedroom. But, of course, Alfreda knew nothing of this.

"Do sit down," said Alfreda. "Thanks, hey," said Ed. "But I can't stay long." "Of course," said Alfreda and proceeded without delay to demonstrate how wide and comprehensive was her learning. "Deer," she said, "have no gall bladders."

"Deer," she said, "have no gall bladders."

"Is that so?" said Ed, who until this moment had believed deer had gall bladders.

"Ben Jonson," said Alfreda, "was buried in a sitting position."

"Hm," said Ed.

"Fortnight" is a contraction of 'fourteen nights,' said Alfreda.

"What do you know!" said Ed.

"Many people think it is forbidden to wash an American flag," said Alfreda. "That is not true. It is perfectly proper to wash an American flag."

"Learn something every day," said Ed.

"The smallest fish in the world," said Alfreda, "is the Panda Pygmea, which is under a half inch when full grown."

"How come they buried that Jonson sitting up?" said Ed.

"It's terribly crowded in Westminster Abbey," said Alfreda.

"Oh," said Ed.

"Ann Boleyn had six fingers on her left hand," said Alfreda.

"Heavens to Betsy!" said Ed.

"Are there any questions you'd care to ask me?" said Alfreda.

"Just one," said Ed. "How big is your house mother's window?"

A tear ran down Alfreda's cheek. "Well, that's the way it goes," she sighed. "You work and slave and study and then they catch you on a trick question! . . . Oh, well, that's life, I guess."

Forlorn and bereft, she rose and shambled to her bed and fell upon it and wept for several days. But finally she pulled herself together, and today she is with Byrd in the Antarctic.

Annual Intra-Squad Game Played Tomorrow

Perry, Staff 'Awful Interested' In Spring Training Climax Tilt

By MARV MEGISON

Doyt Perry, head football coach, and his Falcon grid staff will concentrate all their coaching ideas on the annual intra-squad spring football game to be held tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the University stadium.

Perry stated that he and the staff were "awful interested in the outcome of this game," which marks the climax of the 20-day spring workouts.

The former Ohio State coach pushed his Falcons through what he called "one of the hardest and roughest scrimmages I have ever held at BG" last Saturday in the warmup for the final game.

Perry Pleased

Perry said he was very pleased with the hard blocking and tackling and alert defensive play in the two hour scrimmage. One touchdown was scored by both the regulars and the reserves. Perry said that "the team already resembles the mid-season defensive team of last season." He also said that the offensive needs "a little polish."

Five Players Injured

Five players suffered injuries in the hard-hitting scrimmage Saturday. Perry remarked that he was "very disappointed in the spring injuries, but they are all slight and shouldn't handicap the team next season." Regular tackle Dill Asher and reserve fullback Jim Young sustained knee injuries and are not expected to play in Wednesday's game.

Three reserve players, Sturgal Russell, fullback, Gregg Mee, guard, and Frank D'Eramo, tackle suffered ankle injuries.

Although the game is not a varsity-freshmen contest, Perry stated that one team would be made up of the varsity players from last year and the other would be largely made up of freshmen players of last season.

One Team Named

One team, said Perry, will probably be made up of Ed Janeway and Joe Bates at ends, Dan Hurst, Karl Koepfer, and Jim Derr at tackles, Tim Murnen, Bill Page, and Jerry Cook at guards, and Harold Peek at center. Don Nehlen, Jack Giroux, Vic DeOrto, and Bill Spencer will round out the backfield.

Jackson, Lennox, Russell Out

Halfbacks Carlos Jackson and Floyd Lennox along with tackle Kenny Russell will not be able to play in the game. Grid stars Jackson and Lennox are important links on the Falcon track squad and Russell is still recovering from a leg operation.

Perry said that the Wednesday game will "go far in determining the starting lineup for the season opener with Defiance next season."

BG Sweeps Pair From Marshall

The Bowling Green baseballers "broke the ice" last week end in Mid-American competition at the expense of Marshall College, registering a 6-5 and 10-7 twin victory.

Today coach Warren Steller and his Falcons will play a return match with the powerful Wayne University of Detroit nine. The BG club will be out to revenge the 14-3 hurt suffered at the hands of Wayne in the first game of the season. Wayne pounded the Falcons for 13 hits and 14 runs on April 14. The contest will be held on the Wayne diamond.

In the first of the twin victories over Marshall, Bowling Green mustered a total of six hits and pushed the game ten innings to take the Green Waves 6-5. Fred Hansen connected for two hits in five trips, one being a home run. Dick Kenny pounded two for four.

The Falcons started the second game off in the first inning with a three-run home-run by Hansen, picked up four runs in the third, and rode their early game power to a 10-7 win.

Marshall got to pitcher Don Purvis for 13 hits, but 13 timely strikeouts by the BG hurler kept the Falcons from running into any serious trouble.

The Falcons obtained 10 hits in the second contest with Hansen getting two for four, Bob Carlson connecting with three for five, and Purvis hitting two for four.

Golfers Face Wayne; Nip TU For First Win

Today the Bowling Green golfers entertain the Tartars of Wayne University in a match that could put BG over the .500 mark for the season.

The Tartars, participants in two triangular meets thus far this year, are anchored by Jack Kraklan, a two letterman. Kraklan, along with Jim Cox, Lynn Messner, and Charles Zahm led the Tartars to a 4-8-1 season last year.

In two meetings last season the Falcons soundly trounced the Tartars 11 1/2 to 1, and 9 1/2 to 2 1/2.

Last Saturday Bowling Green engaged the Rockets of Toledo University and eased out a 10 1/2 to 4 1/2 victory. The win was BG's first of the season after the opener was dropped to Albion College.

Victors for BG were Don Kepler, Gary Hallett and Jack Luedemann. Kepler fired rounds of 39 and 38 for a seven over par 77, which was the low score for the day.

SAE Tops Bowling; Kappa Sigs Second

With three more matches left, Sigma Alpha Epsilon is leading the fraternity bowling league with 61 1/2 games in the win column and 13 1/2 in the loss column.

Closest threat to the SAE's is Kappa Sigma with 49 wins and 25 drops. Sigma Nu is in third with 42 wins and 33 defeats and Pi Kappa Alpha rounds out the top four with a 41-34 record.

Huron Playhouse Draws Students For Summer Theater Workshop

"They really work hard, but they sure have a wonderful time," says Dr. Elden T. Smith, director of student life and services, whenever he speaks of the University students who participate in the Huron Playhouse every summer. To anyone who has attended, the Playhouse means eight weeks of concentrated theater work, interspersed with summer-fun and the glamour of the theater.

In 1948, Dr. Fred Walch and Dr. Smith, then members of the speech department, outlined a plan for a summer theater to serve as a laboratory for advanced theater students. They looked for a resort area where the group would have to compete for an audience. After trudging around Lake Saint Mary, Port Clinton, and many other sections, Huron, located in a area dotted with summer resorts, was found to be the ideal spot.

Established In 1949

The Huron Playhouse was established in the Huron High School with Dr. Walch as its director in the summer of 1949. In the middle of the summer, Dr. Walch was taken ill, and Dr. Smith took over the duties of director. Dr. Walch again directed in 1950. The following year he left the faculty and Dr. Smith became director for the next five years. This summer, Dr. Donald C. Kleckner, chairman of the speech department, will serve as director.

It was difficult in the beginning to get the project established. Dr. Smith recalls that one hot night during the first summer, there were only 14 people in the audience. The idea has finally caught on, as is shown by the steady increase in audience attendance each year. The total attendance for the first season was about 3,800, compared with last year's attendance of more than 8,000. The greatest attraction of all was "Annie Get Your Gun," when more than 2,000 attended the five nights of its run. Huron draws audiences from a 50-mile radius. People come from as far as Mansfield, Toledo, and Cleveland.

Students Earn Credits

Nine semester hours of credit may be earned at the Playhouse. Courses are offered in dramatic production, acting, stagecraft, and stage lighting. The staff for this year includes Prof. John H. Hepler, Dr. Donald C. Kleckner, Dr. F. Lee Miesle, and a guest director. The course work includes

Twenty Go To Camp For Student Confab

Devodutt, from India, who is a visiting professor of religion at Ohio Wesleyan University. The topic discussed was, "Our Oneness in Christ and Our Disunity as Churches."

The seven denominations represented as this second interdenominational conference were Baptist, Congregational Christian, Disciples of Christ, Evangelical and Reformed, Evangelical United Brethren, Presbyterian, and Episcopal.
